

1975 rainfall 5.13 inches below normal

Rainfall in the Quad-City area during 1975 fell well below normal precipitation of 34.45 inches for the 12-month period, according to statistics compiled from rainfall readings at the Chain of Rocks locks.

A total fall of 29.32 inches precipitation, including snowfall on three days during December, was 5.13 inches below the normal projection, records show, with the last four months of the year experiencing one of the lightest rainfalls in recent years for that period.

Precipitation readings at the locks, where records are maintained for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, show that during September, October, November and December, a total of only 3.79 inches of rain fell in the Quad-Cities, compared with a normal fall of 10.11 inches for that period.

The lightest rainfall for any one month of the year was registered in October when the total fall amounted to only .99 of an inch, compared with a normal projection of 2.86 inches for the month.

In September, total precipitation was .82 of an inch compared to a normal of 2.76 inches, and in December the total fall measured .93 of an inch, compared with a normal of 1.97 inches. The November fall was only 1.35 inches compared with a normal of 2.57 inches.

Heavy rains during some of the other months in 1975 helped offset the lighter rains during the last quarter to leave the area 5.13 inches below the normal fall. In January, for example, a total of 4.38 inches of rain was recorded here, or 2.40 inches above the normal of 1.98 inches. In August, rainfall measured 4.30 inches, or 1.28 inches above normal, and in May a total of 5.96 inches of rain fell, compared to a normal of 3.73 inches.

June proved to be another month with light rainfall, with a recording of 1.64 inches compared to a normal of 4.27 for that month.

Total precipitation during 1975 of 29.32 inches was 3.48 inches more than was recorded during 1974 when precipitation for all 12 months amounted to 25.84 inches, or 8.61 inches below normal. The 1975 rainfall total, however, was 12.40 inches less than the 1973 total of 41.72 inches.

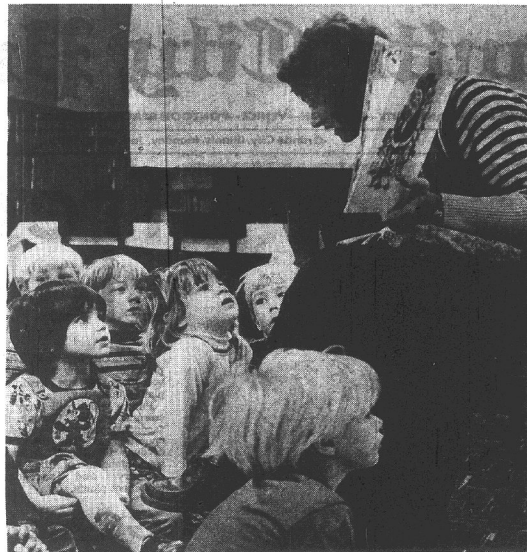

Rainfall by months during 1975, with normal precipitation shown in parenthesis, was as follows:

January-4.38 (1.98); February-2.64 (2.04); March-2.98 (2.34); April-3.34 (3.71); May-3.96 (3.73); June-1.64 (4.27); July-2.29 (3.20); August-4.30 (3.02); September-.92 (2.76); October-.99 (2.86); November-1.35 (2.57); December-.93 (1.97).

Plans for the 1976 federal income tax filing period were announced today by Ira S. Loeb, district director of Internal Revenue for Central and Southern Illinois.

"Due to the many changes brought about by the new tax legislation, the complexity of the tax forms this year, and the demand for improved service to the public, we expect to have the busiest filing season in the history of the Internal Revenue Service," Loeb said.

During the filing period of Jan. 1 through April 15, daily walk-in service will be available in IRS offices located in Alton, Bloomington, Carbondale, Champaign, Danville, Decatur, East St. Louis, Galesburg, Mt. Vernon, Peoria, Quincy and

Hearing Tuesday on mining at Kaskaskia

Southwestern Illinois environmental and sportsman groups are objecting to a proposal by Peabody Coal Company of St. Louis to plug, drain and strip mine the bed of the Kaskaskia River near New Athens.

The Illinois Audubon Society and the Sierra Club have requested a public hearing on the proposal. In spite of strong objections from Peabody officials, the Army Corps of Engineers has granted the hearing, a Sierra spokesman said Friday. It will be held tomorrow evening in New Athens.

The proposed strip mine plan is on a 200-acre island owned by the state of Illinois. It was formed when the Kaskaskia River was canalized for barge traffic.

The old stream meander, as proposed by Peabody, would be plugged at both ends, pumped dry and strip mined over a 30-month period. Environmentalists and sportsmen say prime river-bottom habitat would be eliminated.

The land was purchased by the state as "mitigation" for the environmental damage which occurred to the Kaskaskia River when it was straightened from Fayetteville to the mouth — a distance of 50 natural river miles shortened to 36 miles of barge canal. Opponents of the $120 million public works project have labeled the canal Peabody Ditch.

The island contains numerous species of both game and non-game wildlife.

"Large den trees overhang the quiet backwater and there is a large variety of nut trees on the island."

"Whereas there is virtually no aquatic life in the sterile adjacent barge canal, the cutoff stream meander provides excellent spawning habitat for game fish and other aquatic species."

"The Corps of Engineers has authority under Sec. 404, Public Law 92-500, to grant or deny permits for projects that involve dredging or filling of streams or wetlands. Peabody has previously obtained the "Little Muddy River and Beaucaup Creek in Southern Illinois have already been strip mined in this manner."

"Peabody Coal Co. has another application for permit pending on Plum Creek in nearby Randolph County. This permit application is being contested by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Illinois Department of Conservation."

"Individuals and citizen groups are invited to attend the public hearing at the New Athens Community Center at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday for the purpose of commenting or presenting statements on the proposal."

Busiest income tax season ever predicted for 1976

Plans for the 1976 federal income tax filing period were announced today by Ira S. Loeb, district director of Internal Revenue for Central and Southern Illinois.

"Due to the many changes brought about by the new tax legislation, the complexity of the tax forms this year, and the demand for improved service to the public, we expect to have the busiest filing season in the history of the Internal Revenue Service," Loeb said.

During the filing period of Jan. 1 through April 15, daily walk-in service will be available in IRS offices located in Alton, Bloomington, Carbondale, Champaign, Danville, Decatur, East St. Louis, Galesburg, Mt. Vernon, Peoria, Quincy and Springfield.

These offices will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. In Mattoon and Olney, assistance will be given on Mondays and Fridays during these same hours.

In addition, temporary offices offering taxpayer assistance will be set up in Belleville, Cairo, Centralia, Harrisburg, Herrin, Jacksonville, Litchfield and Macomb to provide local walk-in assistance from Internal Revenue.

The IRS is continuously seeking ways to improve serving the public and to be more responsive to their needs, Loeb said.

"More and more taxpayers are remembering that the IRS will discuss their tax questions with them over the telephone. The telephone service is theirs for the dialing, without any long-distance charges," he added.

The IRS toll-free telephone number is 800-252-2821. This service is available each work day Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Loeb asked taxpayers to be patient if the telephone lines are busy and they are put on "hold," since thousands of calls are received every day and occasionally some calls stack up, causing a delay.

Taxpayers may avoid a delay if they call between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m. and after 4 p.m. when the lines are the least busy, Loeb concluded.

Court victories produce added revenue for state

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced last week that he is turning over to the state's general revenue fund $1,065,640 obtained in two court cases won by his office.

Scott said, "In these days, when we are being warned repeatedly that the state's general revenue fund is dangerously low, it is good news to begin the New Year by turning more than a million dollars over to the state."

"One million of the total is due to the state from Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises, Inc. In November 1975, the Illinois Supreme Court upheld Scott's contention that CTE owed the state $4.9 million in taxes and interest on its annual pari-mutuel handle during the corporation's 1966 through 1972 racing seasons at Arlington Park Race Track, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Scott's suit charged that CTE set up two artificial divisions—Arlington Park Jockey Club and Washington Park Jockey Club and, by dividing its annual pari-mutuel total, paid taxes in a lower bracket. Scott argued that by avoiding its full tax liability, the corporation sought to shift the burden to the state's individual taxpayers.

The first two installments of $500,000 each, were paid on July 31, 1974, and December 31, 1974. Annual payments of $1,000,000 will continue for three more years.

The remaining $95,640 is the final payment on $4½ million won by Scott's office in settlement of a price-fixing antitrust suit against five major drug manufacturers and distributors of the drug "tetracycline" in the federal district court in New York City.

The state's general revenue fund has received $1,644,959 of the settlement and public health centers throughout Illinois have shared $1,532,000. An additional $225,517 was distributed to 565 citizens who alleged they were victimized by the price-fixing scheme.

Scott also won another $1,000,000 which he used to set up a trust fund to aid Illinois agencies working in the areas of drug abuse, alcoholism, lead poisoning and emergency cardiac care.

Logan school ransacked

About eight rooms were ransacked and an attempt was made to start a fire inside New Logan School, West 25th Street and Bryan Avenue, it was discovered after police saw some broken windows at the school at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

Seven classrooms and the kitchen were ransacked with several windows broken. In the kitchen, food was thrown around and a fluid was poured on the floor.

Decide to appoint new health agency's board

Appointment rather than election of 60 board members of a new Health Systems Agency serving the bi-state metropolitan area was decided on at a meeting Saturday.

The 24-16 decision at a meeting of the Interagency Coordinating Group means that the new board will consist of 47 persons chosen by the ACO nominating committee, a Veterans Administration representative and 12 persons designated by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council. Formation of the HSA is being speeded so that federal grant applications can be submitted by Jan. 19.

The agency is to go into operation about April. Plans call for it not only to be a

Taxpayers Ask RS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I bought several tickets to a concert performed for the benefit of a charity. Are the cost of these tickets deductible as a charitable contribution?

A. The payments for admission or participation in any benefit performance, banquet, charity ball, etc., for a qualified organization are deductible only to the extent they exceed the fair market value of the performance or other privilege.

For example, if the concert would normally cost $10, but the benefit cost $20, you may claim the extra $10 as a charitable contribution. If you claim the deduction, you must show that the payment is above the fair market value. Whether you use the tickets or not has no bearing on the amount you may deduct.

Q. Is the tax on my utility bill tax deductible?

A. Generally, utility taxes are not deductible unless they are imposed at the same rate as the general sales tax, and are considered part of the general sales tax.

Q. I was married last month, but I am continuing to use my maiden name at my job and for other business purposes. Can I use my maiden name and still file a joint return with my husband?

A. Yes, but there are complications. When the joint return is processed, the IRS will file it under the primary surname and social security number, which in this case is your husband's. There will be no record of a tax return filed under your maiden name.

Consequently, every year that you file jointly using your maiden name, you may receive a delinquency notice from the IRS.

Until the system is changed, the only way to resolve this is to follow the instructions on the delinquency notice and state that you filed a joint return with your husband, listing his name, Social Security number and your name.

Q. I recently made a profit from the sale of some stock I owned. I didn't withdraw the profit from my account, but used it to cover some earlier losses. Will I have to pay tax on the profit?

A. Yes. Profits are taxable as income in the year received, whether or not you withdraw them from the account. The fact that you used them to offset losses does not eliminate your tax liability.

JOSEPH SPENGLER RITES. Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today at St. Paul's Catholic Church in Highland for Joseph S. Spengler, 91, father of Laurence Spengler of Granite City. Mr. Spengler died Thursday at St. Joseph Hospital, Highland. He also leaves two other sons and a daughter, two sisters, 18 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren. Burial was in St. Joseph Cemetery, Highland.

CHECK STOLEN. Mrs. Leslie Prothro, 815 Bissel St., Venice, reported two negro men called at her home at 11:54 a.m. Friday to inquire as to the address of persons she did not know. Apparently one of the men reached into the mailbox and took her $157 social security check, she said.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL. William Buehler, 16, of 2600 Madison Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:05 p.m. New Year's Day following an auto accident. He suffered injuries to his nose and bruises to his right elbow and left forearm.

DRIVER INJURED. Cars driven by William Burton, 2623 State St., and Anthony Weible, 2423 Benton St., collided at 20th and State streets at 12:39 p.m. Saturday. Burton was treated for an injury to his hip and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

BPW seeks Young Career Woman candidates

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club is seeking candidates for its "Young Career Woman" program, an annual project which honors young working women in the community. The local winner will be eligible to compete at the district and state levels, with the top state candidate to be honored at the National BPW convention in July at Denver, Colo. To be eligible for Young Career Woman competition, the candidates are required to be between the ages of 21 and 28 years at the time of the national BPW convention; currently or previously employed in business or a profession with at least one year of fulltime work experience in her career area; "outstanding" in scholastic work, community service and church work; and must reside, work, or be continuing her education in the area served by the State Federation she represents. Mrs. LaVelle Stephens, chairman of the Young Career Woman program for the Granite City BPW club, said a $50 U. S. Savings bond will be presented the local winner. "The program affords candidates an opportunity to meet new people and exchange ideas with other young leaders from around the country," the chairman said.

District winners will receive an all-expense paid trip to the Illinois BPW state convention at the Palmer Hotel, Chicago, set April 22 to April 25.

Mrs. Stephens said candidates are required to prepare and submit a "comprehensive" autobiography typed double spaced and less than five pages in length, together with two photographs, and a letter of endorsement outlining her leadership qualities, civic, church and community activities, her maturity outlook and business achievements.

As part of the competition, each candidate must submit a 500 word theme, also typed and double spaced, on the topic—"My Widening Horizons." Three minutes will be allowed for the presentation of the theme.

Mrs. Stephens said the deadline for receiving all previously mentioned material is Tuesday, Feb. 3.

Additional information about the contest may be obtained by calling Mrs. Stephens, at 876-5684, after 5 p.m.; or Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, at 876-4595, or Mrs. Lois Wetton, at 797-0638.

Bicentennial idea - home displays of family quilts

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension Adviser—Home Economics
Great-grandmother may have thoughtfully put away her family quilts, but even so, they can be dirty and dusty when you take them out of storage for display during the Bicentennial celebration.

Here are some tips on how to safely clean old cotton and linen quilts.
Before you begin, test the dyes to see if they are colorfast. With an eyedropper, put a few drops of the intended cleaning solution on an inconspicuous part of the quilt.

Make sure the solution completely penetrates the fibers. Then press a white blotter on the damp area. If any of the colors in the fabric are visible on the blotter, do not use any wet method of cleaning.

The first step in cleaning a quilt is to remove all air-borne dirt and dust. Cover the quilt with fiberglass screening and run a low-power hand vacuum cleaner over the quilt.

If the dye is not fast, this is as much as you can safely do to clean the quilt. Throughout the cleaning process, the quilt should be supported by fiberglass screening. The screening helps old fabric withstand the added weight of water and detergent. Ideally, you should clean the quilt in a basin large enough to hold the quilt without folding.

Museums construct basins by stretching plastic across the center of large wooden frames. For home cleaning, try folding the quilt so it will fit into a bathtub. However, the more folds you put into the quilt, the more you will have to rinse it.

Lower the quilt into a solution of water and neutral detergent, heated to about 90 degrees F. You may have to write manufacturers to learn which ones are neutral.

Soak the quilt in the detergent solution for about an hour. If it is very dirty, the water will appear yellow. Lift the quilt out of the water and drain on the screen. Then gently hose it using low pressure with shower head or shampoo attachment. If the quilt still appears yellow, repeat the process.

If it appears clean, rinse it several times—at least seven—and gently hose it between each rinsing. Never scrub, beat or squeeze an antique textile.

When the quilt has been thoroughly rinsed, let it drain and dry on a suspended screen. Do not hang it over a clothes line in the yard or basement. When displaying the quilt, do not put it in direct light of any type; this will weaken the fibers.

At the close of the celebration, carefully store it so that your great-great-grandchild can proudly display it during the Tricentennial.

Driver faces five charges

George L. Shelton, 21, of 1908 Fifth St., Madison, faces five charges after his auto struck a parked car, a fence and a building in the 2000 block of Benton Street at 6:45 p.m. Thursday. Officers alleged Shelton's auto struck the rear of the parked car of Larry McCormick, 2030 Benton St., crossed the roadway, went over the curb, went through a chain-link fence around the Emerson School playground, crossed the corner of the playground and went through the fence at the other corner, and then struck the building of Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 2037 Benton St. Witnesses said the car began to return to the roadway, but stopped. Shelton was charged with intoxication, reckless driving, destruction of property and not having proper registration for his car.

For 2½ years, is a veteran of 14½ years' active naval service. For 1975, he was named "recruiter of the year" of the Nashville Navy Recruiting District. Before coming to the Nashville station, the 32-year-old Navy man served at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.; with helicopter squadrons at Imperial Beach, Calif., and Pensacola, Fla.; at the Naval Air Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; and two tours of duty at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn. Petty Officer Cantlon is the son of Frank E. Cantlon, 4021 Breckenridge Lane, and Mrs. Virginia F. Cantlon, 2704 Bixton Ave., both in Granite City. ## Bicentennial remodeling at Cahokia Mounds Park

The Illinois Department of Conservation has received a $100,000 grant from the federal government for a statewide Bicentennial project. The grant will enable the department to employ persons in depressed areas throughout the state to rehabilitate historic sites. The funds, according to state Bicentennial Commission Director Michael Linderman, were sought by the Illinois Bicentennial Commission for the Department of Conservation under Title X legislation which provides federal money for labor intensive programs that hire unemployed persons. Administered by the Illinois Bicentennial Commission, the $100,000 grant is being used to highlight the historical significance of the state and the United States at key Illinois sites.

The renovations are expected to be completed in time for visitors during the Bicentennial year. Linderman said eight specific projects are being developed: In Bishop Hill, site of the Swedish Community in the 1840s, a boardwalk will be constructed, exhibits will be designed for the Bjorklund Hotel and renovations will be made on the Colony Church and outbuildings.

Work at the Galena Complex will include outdoor construction at the Ulysses S. Grant Home and Washburn House and the conversion of a log cabin into an orientation center. Galena is a historic district well known for its Civil War Era recreations each year.

Cahokia Mounds, site of the largest prehistoric Indian culture in the United States, will rotate museum exhibits and remodel one structure for use as a school interpretive center. At Lincoln Log Cabin, home of Abraham Lincoln's parents, structures and outbuildings will be rehabilitated and one will be converted into an orientation center. Lincoln made frequent visits there to see his parents while on his judicial circuit. Historic structures along key areas of the 10-mile-long Hennepin Canal will be repaired and painted. Built in 1907, the canal opened important water transportation between Chicago and Western Illinois. It was named after the French Franciscan missionary, Louis Hennepin, who explored the Mississippi River area.

The Cahokia Courthouse will be renovated and new exhibits will be added. This log house was the judicial seat of St. Clair County in the Northwest Territories, with jurisdiction over most of Illinois and part of Wisconsin. The courthouse is one of a few with French upright log construction in the state. Projects in Shawneetown, center of economic development in Southern Illinois and home of the first chartered Illinois bank in the early 1800s, include the construction of exhibits and the development of office and public areas.

Fort de Chartres was the seat of the French military government between 1730 and 1760. Work on the fort includes rehabilitation of an office and the development of minor restoration projects. The Department of Conservation project is viewed by the Illinois Bicentennial Commission as a statewide contribution to "Illinois' Celebration '76."

Daily bus riders rise to 221,000

A 22 per cent increase in bus ridership and more than 100 service improvements, including 26 new lines, have resulted from public financial support of the Bi-State Transit System during the past two years, Robert J. Baer, Bi-State Development Agency executive director, commented Friday.

"In November 1973," Baer said, "following implementation of the one-half cent transportation sales tax in the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County and with financial support from the state of Illinois, the basic fare was reduced, from 45 cents to 25 cents and senior citizens over 65 were permitted to ride for 15 cents."

"Since then, the 15 cent rate has been extended to blind persons. Reductions in other fares also were made and, as a result, our transit fares are among the lowest in the country. Overall, the new fares represented a reduction in rates of 44 per cent."

"At the same time," Baer continued, "we began our continuing program of service improvements by inaugurating nine new bus lines."

"Since then, 17 more bus lines have been added, making a total of 26 to date—providing new low-cost public transportation to dozens of communities and tens of thousands of people."

"In addition," Baer said, "routes have been extended on 33 existing lines and trips added to another 43 lines to expand service to new areas, to provide more frequent stops and extended hours of operation, and in many cases, new service on Saturdays and Sundays."

"Another major step forward during the past year was the purchase of 245 new buses. Also, 109 new, modern shelters going up throughout the metropolitan area will add further convenience for bus riders.

"As a result of these and other improvements," Baer concluded, "average weekday ridership has increased from 181,000 to 221,000 daily—a solid 22 per cent."

"We think we've made a good start, but we realize we have a long way to go. Many dedicated people—Bi-State drivers, maintenance crews, management team, the Bi-State Development Agency board of commissioners, state and local government officials—are all working toward the same goal: to have the best possible public transportation system for the entire bi-state area."

"Plans for the immediate future (1976) include: (1) 'The purchase of 200 more new buses with two-way radios. (2) 'A computerized registering fare collection system. (3) 'Fifty additional passenger shelters throughout the system. (4) 'Reserved lanes for buses. (5) 'Further route and service improvements for increased convenience and mobility of the public. (6) 'Increased citizen participation in planning new expansions of the bus system. (7) 'Improved public transportation for the elderly and handicapped. (8) 'Additional park-ride lines and circulator services. 'All of these planned improvements are evidence that Bi-State is indeed 'going your way,' Baer said.

Jennie L. Bernaia and Phillip Szymarek wed

Miss Jennie Lynn Bernaia, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bernaia, 2407 Washington Ave., and Phillip Alan Szymarek Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Szymarek, 2633 Grand Ave., exchanged wedding vows on Dec. 26 at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

The 7 o'clock evening service was performed by Father James Newman before an altar decorated with bouquets of red poinsettias and white carnations.

Nuptial selections, played by Mrs. Betty Lyerla, included "The Way We Were," "Morning Has Broken" and "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet."

For her wedding, the former Miss Bernaia chose a full-length gown of white bridal satin fashioned with an A-line skirt and cathedral-length train, edged with Cluny lace.

The decorative lace edging accented the V-neckline, set-in midriff and formed the flared cuffs of the long sleeves.

She wore a Juliet cap to secure her mantilla veil of bridal illusion, bordered with scalloped lace. The bridal bouquet consisted of tinted blue carnations and baby's breath, tied with blue satin streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Gina Bisson and the bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Stephens and Lisa Bernaia, a sister of the bride, wore identical blue floral halter dresses complemented with matching capes and blue picture hats.

Each held a bouquet of blue carnations intermingled with greenery and blue streamers. Kara Kosoyder, the flower girl, was dressed in a white frock trimmed with blue ribbons. She held a small cluster of blue roses.

Jimmy Anderson, a nephew of the groom, served as ringbearer.

The groom chose Pat Forsys as his best man, James Childers, Bruce Henry, John Bernaia, a brother of the bride, and James Hagnauer completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Both mothers of the bridal couple were attired in formal length gowns of powder blue polyester worn with silver accessories and white carnation corsages.

A reception was held after the service at the VFW Hall. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Roustio's Restaurant in Collinsville.

The newlyweds are now residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Tan-Tar-A Resort. Both graduated from Granite City High School South. The groom also attended the University of Tennessee and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is now employed by P&S Amusement Co.

Canadians among GC ice hockey foes in Texas competition

Texas and Canadian voices and ice hockey styles provided varied dialogue and competition for young Granite Cityans during their participation in the Space City Holiday Tournament at Houston, Tex., Dec. 27-30.

Returning here Wednesday were the P and S Amusement "bantam" team, 13-14 age group (10-31 record) and the Knowles Ford "tee wee" team, ages 11-12 (13-1-1 season record).

The Granite City Amateur Ice Hockey Association squads represented the Midwest in the ice tourney.

Garnishing second place, the local pee wee team won its first two games, 5-1 against Oklahoma City and 2-1 against Calgary, Canada. The second game was played without a penalty against either team.

Jake Hinterser, coach, commented, "Canada tried to skate our legs off."

The Knowles Ford team then went to an all-star team from Chicago, 2-1. Later in the afternoon, the Granite Cityans shut out Houston 2-1, giving them the right to face Chicago again for the championship.

Chicago won that game, 4-0. Three goals in the last period were of the tainted variety.

Hinterser said, "This was probably the finest team game the boys played, and we just didn't get the breaks."

He felt that "the entire team played well throughout the tournament and opened the eyes of other teams as to the fine caliber of hockey played in the St. Louis area."

Forwards on the Knowles Ford team were Jim Owens, Ted Thalman, David Harris, Timmy Dix, Joe Schnefke, Deron Bridick, Pat Theis, Robbie Chapman and Craig Burcky.

The defense consisted of Mark Prasha, Alan Schmidt, Mike Hassler, Eric Nea and Mike Reilly.

Goalies were Chris Hinterser and Glenn Simpson.

The local bantam team started off with a 2-2 tie against Houston, followed by a 7-2 win over Oshawa, Ontario.

The bantams then played a hard-hitting game against Chicago and lost 3-1.

Next, the Granite City bantams played their finest game against Calgary, Canada, only to lose 2-1.

Leak in underground line located Friday

A leak in an underground line to a storage tank at Apex Oil Co. on Tri-City Regional Port District property was located Friday and has been pinpointed as a likely source of chemicals in a drainage ditch at the port.

An alkaline substance has burned five persons.

Officials of Apex Oil Co. said today they have dug down to the leak in the line.

They were to test it under pressure today to determine the extent of the leak, whether it can be repaired or whether the line will have to be replaced.

The underground line connects a barge unloading facility on the Chain of Rocks Canal and a 300,000-gallon tank containing a substance with a 30 per cent sodium hydroxide content.

It was explained the line would have leaked only during barge unloading operations, when the line was subjected to the pressure. Apex officials could not determine any leak in the storage tank, since the chemicals which escaped never reached the tank.

A representative of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency was expected to return today to port area today to inspect the canal and determine if additional measures should be taken to reduce the danger of other persons being burned by chemicals.

Chemicals were added to the drainage ditch last week to neutralize its alkaline content and most of the water was discharged to the Mississippi River from the Granite City Army Installation property during the weekend.

The upper flood gates were left open all weekend to "flush out" the canal, but officials have indicated there still is a danger due to chemicals which have saturated the muddy banks of the narrow ditch.

South wrestlers 2nd in sophomore tourney

GCHS South's sophomore matmen participated Saturday in an eight-school tournament at Parkway North High School in Missouri, taking second place with 108 points. Lafayette High School won with 111 points, and Fort Zumwalt was third with 101.

Warrior assistant coach John Brooks explained that South High was not originally scheduled to compete at Parkway, but one school dropped out of the tourney Friday and the Warriors were asked to enter.

Four South High wrestlers emerged as champions in their weight classes — Wally DeShon (105 pounds) on two pins and a decision, Barry Forshee (112) on three pins, Mike Forshee (145) on two pins and a decision, and Tony Broyles (167) on two pins and a decision.

Three other South wrestlers placed well in the tournament — Brian Bassore (105) third on a pin, losing on a decision, Barry Briggs (119) second after winning twice on decisions and then losing, and Mark Lemp (185) fourth after winning a decision and then losing two straight bouts.

Two held in burglary

Two young men from Granite City and Madison today were in the custody of Sauget police who were seeking burglary warrants against them.

It is alleged the two broke into Jim's Pub in Sauget about 2:30 a.m. Saturday and stole a television, 36 quarts of liquor, five cases of beer, four cartons of cigarettes, about $257 in cash and a calculator.

Sauget police said today they have recovered the television and the calculator and are continuing their investigation to try to locate the other stolen items.

One young man was arrested by Granite City police at 1 a.m. today when his car allegedly pulled in front of a police car at 22nd Street and Edison Avenue, causing the police car to slide sideways to avoid an accident.

The man was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way, having registration for his car and having fictitious license plates. He then was turned over to Sauget police.

The second man was arrested by county officials and also taken to Sauget.

A juvenile boy surrendered himself to Granite City police at 1 p.m. Sunday in the 2100 block of Bryan Avenue, but was released without being charged after he was questioned.

Food stamp increases

Illinois Department of Public Aid Director James L. Trainor has announced increases in food stamp coupon allotments and maximum allowable income for all participants in the food stamp program, effective Jan. 1, 1976.

The allotment increases are based on the cost of the U. S. Department of Agriculture thirty food plan as it is computed from Bureau of Labor Statistics food prices. Accordingly, USDA will raise the value of the coupon allotment from $16.20 to $16 for a family of four and make appropriate adjustments for other household sizes.

Coupon allotment amounts by family size starting Jan. 1 are:

One - $50
Two - $92
Three - $130

Contact lens court ruling

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced today that he has won a legal decree which will prohibit laymen from adapting or fitting contact lenses after Feb. 1.

The decree, signed by Cook County Circuit Court Judge Walter P. Dahl, permits opticians or other laymen to fit contact lenses only under the direct supervision of a doctor of surgery or an optometrist.

The Illinois Supreme Court referred an original case back to the trial court for the entry of an injunctive order. The Circuit Court decree stays enforcement until Feb. 1.

Home opener Tuesday for 2-7 Cougars

After nine straight games on the cold and unfriendly road, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team will open its home season tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Edwardsville High School gym.

Facing Coach Jim Dudley's SIUE Cougars, now 2-7 after a 1-2 record in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Conference tournament at Springfield, Mo., Thursday through Saturday, will be Culver-Stockton College of Canton, Mo. (6-2).

In losing their opener to the Rolla Miner 94-68, trouncing the SEMO Cape Indians 99-75, and then bowing in their fifth-place battle with Central Missouri 78-64, the Cougars performed true to the tradition of Dudley-coached SIUE teams since he took over from Harry Gallatin six years ago: the Cougars almost invariably manage to get more shots at the basket than their opponents.

If the Cougars are hitting, they win big as they did over Cape. But if they aren't on target, they lose, but not badly. Host Southwest Missouri State won the meet by beating Rolla 63-43.

Basketball Trojans reach championship game but lose to hosts

Coach Larry Graham's Madison Trojans lost their New Year's eve bid for the eighth annual Edwardsville holiday basketball tournament despite a heroic second-half performance in the title game.

Madison gained its third straight victory in the tourney Wednesday afternoon with a 75-59 semifinal triumph over Elk Grove but then lost 75-67 to the host Tigers that night in the championship game.

Pinckneyville, which fell to the Trojans 72-60 in first-round competition last Monday, swept to victory in the consolation bracket for top honors there, defeating Jerseyville 75-68 in that bracket's final game Wednesday evening.

Madison also took runner-up honors in 1975 in losing to the Trojans.

Madison encountered problems from the start against the Tigers in this tournament. Edwardsville hit on seven of 15 field goal attempts and two of four foul shots in the first period for a three-point edge, 16-13, going into the second quarter.

Madison players found their mark on five of 12 shots from the field and three of five charity tosses. Ron Jones scored 10 of his team's first-quarter points.

The Trojans' Ron and Randall Jones proved effective with inside passing and scoring from under the basket.

But the Trojans were brought to a virtual standstill in the second period as the Tigers plugged the inside lanes and space under the basket, resulting in foul calls as the Jones brothers attempted to penetrate Edwardsville's defense.

Each picked up four fouls before the half ended.

Madison's usual ability to find positions under the basket and thus control the rebounding also was hampered. The Trojans were held to only three field goals in 16 attempts from the floor.

Edwardsville breezed to a 43-22 halftime lead, connecting on eight of 11 shots from the floor and 11 of 14 charity tosses. Randall Jones was limited to a lone free throw in the first half.

But less than two minutes later, the Tigers were up by 12 points, 60-48.

Madison closed the gap to the Tigers' 11, cutting Edwardsville's lead to 54-40 going into the final quarter.

Edwardsville began to weaken under Madison's press and fast-breaking offense in the last period and the lead continued to dwindle.

Assisted by three straight Tiger turnovers and a foul, Randall Jones put in six straight points to the hosts' two for a 56-46 score with 6:04 left on the clock.

But less than two minutes later, the Tigers were up by 12 points, 60-48.

Madison closed the gap to eight points, 67-59, with 2:17 left in the contest, and was still trailing by eight less than a minute later, 69-61.

The Tigers stalled with a game of keep-away until a steal of a Tiger pass by Trojan Rodney Davis gave Madison possession. But three straight field goal attempts failed to go into the net.

A missed Tiger charity toss was recovered by Randall Jones, who dashed downcourt for another shot that missed its mark, but the Trojan recovered his own rebound and scored. He also made a free throw, having been fouled while scoring.

Madison was within five points, 69-64, with one minute left in the game.

Randall Jones narrowed the margin at 69-67, hitting a field goal and a charity toss, but Trojan fouls enabled the Tigers to hit on six of seven tosses from the free throw line as they built their winning margin.

A Tiger Fred Barton, who was chosen as most valuable player of the tournament, garnered 25 of his team's points. Randall Jones scored 26 for Madison, 25 in the second half.

Ron Jones totaled 21 points, Bankhead seven and Garrett, Williams, Davis, and Clayton, Harris four each, and Joe Gulash one.

The Jones brothers were named to the all-tournament team.

In the semifinals MHS had experienced difficulty in handling Elk Grove in the first half.

Each side scored 10 points in the first quarter and 16 in the second period for a 26-26 halftime score.

Elk Grove led 36-30 with 5:30 left in the third period but three points by Randall Jones narrowed the margin to 38-33.

Field goals by Danny Bankhead and Edwin Garrett pulled the Trojans to within one, 38-37, and a two-point shot by Ron Jones put Madison ahead.

The five goals and four charity tosses enabled Madison to go on top 47-42 going into the final period.

The Trojans extended their margin to 57-50 three minutes into the last quarter, and then matched baskets with the enemy, two apiece, before a parade to the free throw line.

MHS connected with 14 foul shots to Elk Grove's five during the closing minutes. Ron Jones tallied 10 of his team's last 14 foul shots.

Madison held the edge from the floor, 57-51, and tossed in 21 foul shots to Elk Grove's 17. Fouls in the contest were even for the two schools, 22.

The Trojans controlled the boards, including 15 rebounds by Randall Jones and seven by Ron Jones.

Scoring for Madison were Randall Jones with 35 points, Danny Bankhead 16, Ron Jones 12, Joe Gulash and Edwin Garrett four each and Ron Williams and Rodney Davis, two points each.

The victory advanced Madison into the tournament championship contest against Edwardsville. The host Tigers entered the final game off a 70-34 semifinal win over GCHS South.

Warriors 4th in basketball holiday meet

The Granite City High School South Warriors, who won two straight contests last week with a first-round 49-46 victory over Hillsboro and then a 71-68 upset over top-seeded Peoria Woodruff finished fourth in the Edwardsville holiday tournament.

South bowed 70-34 to the host Edwardsville - Tigers Wednesday in the eighth annual Edwardsville cage meet and on Wednesday night lost 58-38 to Elk Grove.

In the tournament's third-place contest against Elk Grove, the Warriors trailed by four, 14-10, and then by 38-22, after the first two quarters.

Elk Grove shot with keen accuracy in the third period, pulling away from South High for a 41-29 margin. In the final period, the Warriors were outgunned 17-9.

In the opening minutes of the final period, Elk Grove had moved ahead 47-32 and then on three straight field goals for a 53-31 edge to put the game far out of reach.

Free throws added to the winners' point total in the closing minutes.

Elk Grove led in goals 22-18 and free throws 14-12 and had the rebounding edge, 26-22.

Jim Nolan and Terry Angle paced the Warriors with 12 points each. Frank Holmes had five, Keith Champion three, and Tom Hendrick, John Slay and Eldon Warfield two each.

Nolan, 6-4 senior center, was honored by his name being added to those who have scored more than 30 points in one contest since the initial tour-ament in 1968.

The tall Warrior athlete scored 34 points in South's victory over previously undefeated Peoria Woodruff.

Nolan joins Tom Howard, who in 1970 scored 34 points in a contest between Cahokia and Johnston City.

Madison's Randall Jones also earned his way into the record book, scoring 35 points in the Trojans' semifinal contest against Elk Grove, won by MHS.

In their semifinal game, the Warriors held a two-point edge, 26-24, over Edwardsville going into the second period on points by Nolan, Mike McRaven and Slay. The Tigers missed six straight field goal attempts and two charity tosses before Tiger Fred Barton garnered all his team's points midway through the quarter.

Edwardsville led 27-13 at the half, adding six field goals and nine shots to lead by 14 points. South trailed 46-22 at the end of three quarters, the Tiger defense holding the Warriors to four baskets and a free throw in the third period.

Edwardsville put the contest further out of reach with 19 shots from the floor and six of 11 from the free throw line while South faltered two field goals in 10 attempts and scored eight free throws.

Ten different Warriors scored in the contest. McRaven and Nolan six each, Slay five, Warfield four, Angle three, and Holmes, Hendrick, Champion, Fred Barton and Tim Anderson, two points each.

Woman to coach tennis Trojans

When Madison High School's boys' tennis team takes to area courts in March to start the 1976 spring season, opposing schools may do a double-take when they glimpse the Trojans' new head coach, a petite, 5-1 art instructor.

Paula Domino, according to James Flynn, assistant executive secretary of the Illinois High School Association, is the first female within the state to head a boys' high school tennis team.

"School boards are hiring the best qualified persons from within their school district to lead their sports programs," Flynn told the Press-Record, "regardless of sex."

"And with co-educational, non-contact, sports developing at a rapid rate on a statewide basis, I expect us to become more and more prevalent."

Paula Domino, 25, a graduate of William and Mary College, in Virginia where she majored in art, has replaced Dan Kostencki as Madison's head tennis coach.

Kostencki this year accepted a position as principal of North Clay Community High School, Louisville, Ill.

Vowing to fulfill Kostencki's program of continuing a revival of tennis at Madison High School, an endeavor he began in 1974 after a one-season absence of the sport at MHS, she brings into the program experience and impressive credentials from her native state of Virginia.

A graduate of James Blair High School, she lettered in tennis for two years there and was captain of a team, in her senior year, which finished the season undefeated.

Miss Domino was a member of her high school's doubles team, and continued in doubles competition while in college, as well as participating in field hockey.

While a student at William and Mary College, she also served as a tennis counselor at a summer recreational camp in Massachusetts, and later taught an eighth grade class for one year at a North Dakota Indian

Of all the sports events ever held in America, which one drew the most requests for tickets... It was the Notre Dame-Army football game of 1967. More than 1 MILLION ticket requests were received for that game to set the all-time record.

Did you ever stop to think that the sport was the strangest name in the world is our sport of football... A football is carried and thrown much more often during a game than it is ever kicked... On three out of every four plays, on the average, there is no foot applied to the football... Football got its name in the last century when it more closely resembled soccer, and even though football changed over the years, its name has not.

Of all the teams in college football history, which one had the most All-Americans on it... You have to go back many years to find the answer... The greatest number of All-Americans ever selected from one squad was the Yale team of 1900... Nine of their starting eleven were picked on the All-American list.

I bet you didn't know... Mathews Chevrolet is an inflation fighter!

30% growth in Illinois tourism

The Illinois tourism industry continued to grow in 1975 despite high energy prices and economic recession, according to the director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, Joseph Pisciotte.

"Total 1975 travel expenditures in Illinois amounted to an estimated $1.7 billion, a $400 million increase over the previous year," Pisciotte noted. The managing director of the department's tourism office, Sandy Guetler, said that 65,000 people throughout the state were employed in travel-related businesses with a payroll of $444 million.

"With total travel expenditures of $1.3 billion in 1974 and $1.7 billion in 1975, tourism has become big business in Illinois."

"Another economic indicator of tourism industry growth," according to Guetler, "is state revenue derived from the Illinois Hotel-Motel Tax. Early estimates for 1975 indicate a $3 million increase to $17.6 million collected from this tax on hotel rooms."

She commented, "The office of tourism's mass communication program was instrumental in creating an identity for Illinois destinations—and in encouraging the public to travel—by producing and distributing literature, financing advertisements, participating in six travel shows and operating the Illinois adventure center."

"In accordance with the 1963 Illinois Promotion Act," she added, "the office of tourism is authorized to make grants to counties, municipalities and local promotional groups."

"In the 1974-75 fiscal year, this matching grant program resulted in $157,000 in assistance to volunteer tourism councils for the production of 1.4 million regional brochures."

"Our office issued a $2,000 grant to the Association of Illinois Rural Recreation Enterprises and a $5,000 grant to the Illinois Hotel-Motel association for production of tourist guides to supplement information available from the state; $10,000 was issued to the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation for promotion of the trail that tells the Lincoln story."

She concluded, "One of the major concerns of an office is the distribution of travel information. Through November 1975 we distributed over 800,000 pieces of travel information."

"Our three most popular publications have been Twenty Scenic Motor Tours, Illinois Calendar of Events and Illinois Campground Directory."

Two boys named in car theft

Petitions have been filed in juvenile court against two 16-year-old boys who allegedly were involved in the theft of a car.

One boy allegedly stole the same car twice and looted another van, all New Year's Eve and early New Year's Day. The other boy allegedly stole a car from Jacobsmeyer's Tavern. Later Thursday the car was located by Tonsor in Kirkpatrick Homes at Edwards Street.

Tonsor said he was unable to start the car at that time and went to get a friend to help him. When returned with a friend, the car was gone.

The friend said he thought he had seen the car being driven south on Ridgedale Ave. Police searched the area and located the car, being driven in the 1700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. They stopped it and arrested the 16-year-old driver, from Mitchell, and a 16-year-old girl passenger, from Pontoon Beach.

The car's ignition had been "hot wired," or shorted to allow it to be started without a key. Investigation led to police obtaining the name of a Kirkpatrick Homes boy, who was questioned and, police say, admitted helping steal the car the first time.

The Mitchell boy was questioned and, police say, admitted stealing tools and a tool box from the truck of Harold Trout, St. Louis, parked at Lincoln Avenue and August Street at 1 a.m. Thursday.

The Pontoon Beach girl was released to her parents with no charges filed.

Three hurt at Madison-27th

Three persons were injured when the cars of Robert Gundlach, 51, of 2918 Indiana Ave., and Ronald Schubert, 19, of 1836 Spring St., collided at 27th Street and Madison Avenue at 1:20 p.m. Thursday.

A southbound motorist said Schubert passed his car and entered the intersection, colliding with the eastbound

Two officers are injured

Two off-duty Granite City police detectives were injured during a disturbance at Tri-Mor Bowl, 3701 Nameoki Road, at 1:20 a.m. Thursday.

Detectives Tony Eck and William Harris were acting as guards for a private New Year's Eve party in the bowling alley when several men arrived and one said he was going to enter, without an invitation.

When the detectives attempted to keep him out, a fight ensued and several other men, as well as several of the persons at the party, joined in the fight.

Harris has his wristwatch torn from his arm and someone in the group stole it. Eck was pulled away from the men who started the fight and was struck several times, suffering an injury to his lower chest and abdomen, police reported.

Police were called and arrested George Wallace, 24, Edwardsville, charging him with resisting arrest, intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Eck went to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was released after x-rays were taken. Harris suffered minor injuries which did not require hospital treatment.

Propose Lutheran high school to serve region

A study is being conducted to determine the feasibility of instituting a Lutheran high school in the Illinois portion of the St. Louis metropolitan area. Don Cochran, chairman of a committee of representatives of area Lutheran churches (Missouri Synod), said the feasibility study should be completed by mid-1976. The results will then go to individual churches for a decision by the congregations in an area bounded by Belleville to the south, Granite City and Alton to the west, Hamel and Troy on the east and Litchfield on the north. Representatives—parents, teachers and pastors—from 14 congregations have been serving on the committee.

The committee has hired Jack Emerick, principal of the Valley Lutheran High School in St. Charles, just outside Chicago, to conduct the feasibility study.

Cochran, a Collinsville resident, said the study committee is supplying information and material to Emerick. Four subcommittees have been created: Goals and Objectives, Public Relations, Finances and Facilities.

The facilities subcommittee will look into prospective locations, building needs and interim possibilities—available buildings that could be used pending construction of a new building.

Cochran said a strong motivation for the proposal for a Lutheran high school is the belief that the churches have been losing too many young people after confirmation.

"A Lutheran high school would enable young people to grow in their faith. Secondly, with a staff of believers in Christ, they would have aid in doing that," he said.

The nearest Lutheran high schools are Lutheran North and Lutheran South, both located in St. Louis County, in Illinois; there are a Lutheran high school in Rockford and four in the Chicago area.

Construction of Lutheran high schools throughout the country has been on the increase in recent years. The number of high schools has grown from 21 in 1962 to 35 as of 1975.

Early indications are that this area does have the resources to support a Lutheran high school through an association of congregations, according to members of the committee.

While contact during the study is being made with Lutheran Churches, Missouri Synod, Cochran said, other denominations have expressed an interest in such a high school.

Several area congregations have adopted resolutions requesting district support for the proposal. It will be on the agenda for the biennial convention of the Southern Illinois District, scheduled for Feb. 22 in Belleville.

Committee officers, in addition to Cochran, a member of Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Collinsville, are: Dave Painter, vice-chairman, a member of Concordia Lutheran Church, Granite City; Erwin Paleau, financial secretary, of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Caseyville; and Alice Trampe, secretary, of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Collinsville.

The committee will next meet at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 13 at Unity Lutheran Church, East St. Louis. Interested individuals are invited to attend the meeting.

Emergency medical technician course

St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City, along with Belleville Area College will provide a course in emergency care and transportation of the sick and injured at the St. Elizabeth Hospital Trauma Center beginning Jan. 19.

The course, 81 hours in length, is designed for policemen, paramedics and ambulance attendants and others involved in caring for the critically ill and injured.

Divided into 25 sessions, with the sessions meeting on Monday and Wednesday evenings, the course leads to certification as emergency medical technician (EMT) by the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Physicians in emergency rooms throughout Illinois have noted an improvement in care rendered to patients brought into the hospital by EMT's, and many ambulance services have made this class a prerequisite to employment, a hospital spokesman said.

Enrollment for the course will be held at St. Elizabeth Hospital today and Wednesday, Jan. 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in person at the trauma coordinator's office.

While the class is offered free of charge through a highway safety grant to BAC, students have the option of taking the class for five semester hours of college level credit by payment of the normal college fee of $45 plus a $10 enrollment fee if they have never been enrolled at BAC before.

There is also a fee of $5 for the textbook and a $15 fee for the National Registry examination. Lesson plans and textbooks will be those developed by the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

Enrollment will be limited to 200 students, and priority is given to those most directly involved in emergency patient care in the home and on the street—ambulance personnel, firemen, policemen and rescue workers.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the trauma coordinator's office at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 876-2020, Extension 411.

Venice man shot in arm

Wayne Manson, 30, of 519 Salveter Ave., Venice, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday at 4:30 p.m. suffering two gunshot wounds, one to his right forearm and one to his right upper arm.

Police are seeking a suspect in the shooting.

The incident reportedly occurred inside Garrett's Pool Hall, 1000 Douglas St., Venice, where Manson and another man allegedly got into an argument.

Police said that the two men had a fight and Manson apparently won. The other man fled the pool hall for a short time then returned and fired four shots at Manson, according to police.

Venice police said they discovered the incident when they stopped a car that ran a stop sign, and a Polly Manson told police they were transporting Wayne Manson to the hospital.

The police then took Manson to the hospital and sent officers to the pool hall. Madison Garrett Jr., owner of the pool hall, was ordered to close until further notice.

Environment fellowships

According to the Office of Research and Projects at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the Rockefeller Foundation has announced a new program of fellowship awards providing support for highly qualified scholars undertaking research and/or public service in environmental affairs.

The program will enable individuals at the postdoctoral level in any relevant field to participate in interdisciplinary efforts to deal effectively with comprehensive environmental problems.

Applicants will be required to develop and submit proposals for innovative research and/or public service designed to enhance and broaden the capabilities of the individual for leadership in environmental affairs and to add a significant new component to environmental research programs.

Fellowships will be awarded for up to a 12-month period. Deadline for submission of proposals to the Rockefeller Foundation is Feb. 1. Copies of the announcement are available in the Office of Research and Projects, SIUE.

Where can a Heat Pump be used?

The Electric Heat Pump solves heating and cooling problems in many types of buildings. It is a year 'round heating and air conditioning system, contained in a single compact unit. Since it needs no chimney or flue, a Heat Pump can be installed almost anywhere. It's a wise use of energy.

Using heat, created by the sun in outdoor air, the Heat Pump is the most efficient heating system available today. In summer, the same unit becomes an efficient air conditioner.

There are many Heat Pump models to choose from, in capacities sized to a home, large office, or other commercial buildings.

In existing buildings with forced air systems, the Heat Pump may be used to replace an old furnace. In many cases, your existing ductwork will be adequate for both warm and cool air circulation by the Heat Pump.

Whether the Heat Pump is installed in a new or existing building, insulation should meet today's higher standards to reduce heat loss and conserve energy.

For an informative brochure on the Heat Pump, ask at our office. If you'd like a computer estimate on Heat Pump operating costs for your home, contact our Energy Use Advisor.

more neighborhood problems, Williams says.

One night, several neighbors and a stranger found him in his yard and started "shooting" at him with an empty pistol and yelling at him, he told the Press-Record.

When authorities arrived, the gun was given to a woman who, in full sight of the investigator, ran into a neighbor's home with it, Williams said.

During the investigation got out of his car, he yelled, "Hold it, Williams," held him at gunpoint and frisked him, it was alleged. The official then put his gun away and walked over to the neighbors to talk in a friendly manner with them, Williams said.

No one was charged, and Williams said he contacted a Cahokia executive and requested an investigation into the incident, asking why he was treated as a criminal and persons bothering him were treated like victims.

Williams alleged that the man refused to tell him what steps he had to take to initiate an inquiry into the incident.

Baseballs continued to be thrown against his house, his children were harassed and attempts were made to have Williams' landlord evict him, he related.

One day when two girls stood in his yard throwing a ball against a tree for a half-hour, nearly hitting his little girl several times, Williams said, he lost his temper, cursed at the girls and ordered them out of his yard.

Neighbors took him to court. He was convicted of perjury for telling his side of the story when two other witnesses who later admitted they were trespassing, lied about the circumstances, he alleged.

He said he was denied the right to file a cross-complaint and his bond was set at $1,000. Since the ball players continued to hit balls into his yard, despite repeated objections, Williams said he decided to begin keeping the baseballs.

He said neighbors then began to threaten him when he was with his daughter, resulting in her becoming emotionally upset.

After he reported several threats, an officer came to his home to take a report and without his permission, searched the home, confiscating a gun, Williams said he objected, and on Jan. 25, 1975, a judge ruled the gun was obtained in an unlawful search of the home.

Williams said the public defender did not notify him he had been cleared of the charge, and repeated attempts to find out the outcome were thwarted.

Finally, in July, a circuit clerk admitted the case had been dismissed and the gun was returned to him, Williams said.

Williams said one neighbor had a citizens' band radio in his home, which was causing problems in Williams' television reception.

After several attempts to rectify the situation by discussing it with the neighbor, Williams called the Federal Communications Commission to object.

As a result of that complaint, that neighbor's wife began to throw rocks into Williams' yard and at his car, she always turned her lawnmower so that it threw rocks and, one time, a jagged beer can sailed into his yard, nearly striking his children, he said.

She also threatened him in the presence of his children, he related, and an officer called to the scene refused to take any action.

The state's attorney refused to let him sign a warrant against his neighbors and "threw him out" of the state's attorney's office May 22, without reading the full police report, Williams said; he next went to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and said his rights were being violated. The FBI did not investigate, he believes.

Fearing for the safety of himself and his family, he went to three church elders, to a relative and to others, seeking someone to help him with the situation and with having the problems heard in court.

"This was the effort I took to avoid violence," Williams said. On July 13, problems started when neighborhood children threw rocks at him; when he yelled at them, their mother screamed at him.

She called her husband at work, saying Williams was threatening their children, but never asking the children what Williams had said to them, he related.

The woman then returned to the yard, waving a baseball bat and threatening him.

Williams said that to protect himself, he got a gun from a locked drawer in his home and sat down in his kitchen with his son.

The neighbor who had been called at work drove to Williams' house, stopped the car in the middle of the street and ran for Williams' front door, it was reported.

memory of a "a girl with long black hair and a navy blue dress and navy blue sweater" persistently returned to haunt her, she was never sure that the memory meant.

The family lived near Lima, Ohio, and was split up in 1935, in the midst of the Depression years. The severance came about when the mother left her four daughters and a son, now deceased, with their father and disappeared.

The father struggled on alone with his five children until, finally, the youngsters were placed in an orphanage under circumstances as yet unresolved by the girls.

Sonja, whose name was Nellie Sargent, was two years old at the time and considered too young to go into the children's home with her sisters and brother. She was adopted by a family near Lima and her name was changed to Sonja.

As she grew older, Sonja was told by her new parents that she had no brothers and sisters and that her parents were alcoholics who had abandoned her.

Her sisters, however, were too old to forget little Nellie. The two other sisters, Marge, now Mrs. Marie Donovan of Lima, and Phyllis, Mrs. Phyllis Kelley of St. Louis, were taken by a pair of elderly women and raised not far from their hometown.

Dora spent five years at the children's home and, at age 19, she married another resident at the home and left for California. Soon afterward, Dora wrote back to Ohio to find out what she could learn about her little sister. There had been no news of her family while in the home.

Dora received no response from the probate court. "I just decided that I might as well forget it - we'd probably never find her," she recalled.

Marge and Phyllis never lost track of each other and, eventually, were reunited with Dora. None had any idea how to reach their youngest sister.

Dora and her husband, Carl, moved to Granite City in 1955 and, as the years went by, their concern naturally was centered on their own growing family of four sons and daughter.

But in 1970, Dora's curiosity drew her back to Lima, Ohio, for another try at finding her sister.

Carl and Dora went to the probate court and coincidentally, the man they talked with was a relative of Sonja's adoptive parents.

He assured Dora that her sister was alive. But in spite of the fact that Sonja was now 37 years old, the permission to see her adoptive mother was required before the sister could contact her.

The adoptive mother's answer was "no" - even when Dora took the phone and pleaded with her.

"The man at the court acted like he really wanted to tell us, but he couldn't," Dora recalled.

"He was a really nice guy, but he didn't want to get mixed up with his family. The judge also told him 'no,' she said. Dora didn't give up. She stayed in contact with the court, persistently trying to clear the heart of Sonja's mother.

Last summer, the change finally came about. While Sonja was visiting home, her mother told her that her family had been trying to reach her.

It was a shock. Sonja hadn't even known that there was any family. Her mother asked if she was sure she wanted to meet them and made prejudicial remarks about their background.

"I told her that I really wanted to, because I had always felt sure that I had a family - and I guess Dora has always wanted to find me," Sonja said.

Her mother said she would arrange the meeting. But after weeks passed and nothing happened, Sonja went to the courthouse in Lima to seek news of her family.

Finally, she found the right man, who told her the story of the coming every year and "trying to find me," Sonja said.

Within two weeks she had the names and addresses of her sisters and on Thanksgiving Day she called all three.

"It's kind of different when you first call someone and say, 'Hey, I'm your sister,' she laughed.

A reunion on Dec. 20 was arranged and the sisters began corresponding.

Sonja had plenty of questions - "She asked what color is your hair? What nationality are we?" - Dora recalled.

Dora, Marge and Phyllis arrived at Sonja's home in Auburn on Saturday, Dec. 20. After a brief period of awkwardness, the four settled down to share 40 years of memories.

Photos of their children, 22 between them, and some yellowed prints of their father, mother and late brother were produced and discussed. It was a revealing experience for Sonja, who learned for the first time the true story of her family.

Dora works in ladies' wear at the K-Mart store on Collinsville Road. Her husband is a millwright at General Motors in St. Louis.

Their 35-year marriage has produced Jack and Joey Pocht, both residents of Granite City, Carl Dean and Alan Pocht, both of Beckmeier, Ill., and Mrs. Danny (Judy) Meyers of Smyrna, Tenn., as well as 11 grandchildren.

Other visits are planned between the sisters, who still have many years of reminiscence to "catch up" on.

A 40-year dream came true and, with it, years of wondering by one small girl finally were answered.

And the efforts of another who could not forget a forlorn little sister created "the most wonderful Christmas" for all.

YOUNG WOMAN HURT
Pam Wieser, 20, Highland, was injured in an auto accident in St. Louis and went to St. Elizabeth Hospital Jan. 1-25. A New Year's Day. She said she struck her head and had pain to her head and spine. She was released after x-rays were taken.

Faces six charges

Raymond Duvall, 30, of 2596 E. 27th St., faces six charges after police arrested him in an alley behind 2610 Jerden Ave., at 1:15 p.m. Sunday and alleged Duvall's auto had been involved in a hit and run accident earlier.

The car of Daniel Snyder, 31, Collinsville, was damaged in an accident at 7:50 p.m. Sunday at 23rd Street and Washington Avenue, by a blue car which drove away without stopping.

Snyder said he was northbound on Washington Avenue when his auto had a flat tire. As Snyder slowed to pull to the curb, an auto behind him struck the rear of his car, damaging both autos and causing minor injuries to Snyder.

Snyder described the car which left the scene and police on patrol said they saw a car matching that description in the 2600 block of Jerden Avenue with a man examining damage to the right front.

When a squad car approached, the man ran south between two houses. An officer attempting to arrest the man alleged the man was holding a foot-long metal bar in one hand.

The officer said he displayed his police revolver, ordered the man to drop the metal bar and the man complied.

He was taken to the Granite City Jail where officers alleged finding five pills in the man's possession.

Duvall was charged with reckless driving, intoxication, leaving the scene of an injury accident, leaving the scene of a property damage accident, not having a driver's license and possession of a controlled substance.

Competitive disadvantages analyzed

By RICHARD H. DYKES
Executive Director
Illinois Metro East
Industrial Development Corporation

A number have asked for more information about our 11-state comparison of air pollution control regulations. Our comparative summary of current regulations as they exist in Illinois and ten competitive industrial states has been completed.

Seven number-filled tables contained in this summary essentially show that Illinois air pollution control regulations are in all cases more restrictive than those in effect in Indiana and Iowa.

Further, in most cases compared, Illinois regulations are more restrictive than those in effect in Arkansas, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, Texas and Wisconsin.

Only Kentucky and Tennessee of all states used in this comparison appear to have air pollution control regulations which are generally equal or more restrictive than those in effect in Illinois.

We have taken this matter to the attention of the governor's office and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

We expressed concern not only with the regulations that generally are more restrictive than those of other states, but with differing administrative practices which work to put Illinois—and our area—at a competitive disadvantage for industrial development activity.

We are expecting a written response soon on the various issues which we raised at our meeting in Springfield.

We are hopeful that a course of action can be developed which will provide a better balance between environmental protection and the need for new jobs in our state and area.

An analysis of various state air pollution control regulations for new emission sources was undertaken by Illinois Metro East in July 1975.

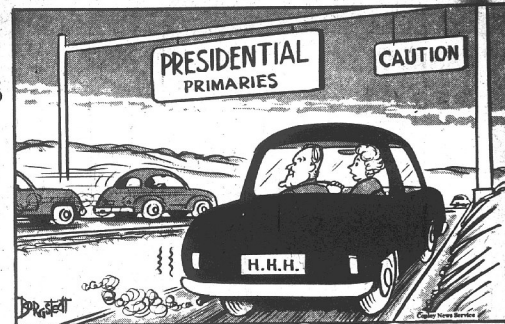

The general purpose of this analysis was to determine how Illinois air pollution control regulations for new emission sources compared to those of other states. Extensive information was compiled.

The analysis compares Illinois regulations to those in effect in surrounding states as well as states with which Illinois is often in competition for new or expanded industrial development activity.

The states used in this comparison were: Illinois, Arkansas, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, Tennessee, Texas and Wisconsin.

A summary of the findings follows:

Visible emission standards (Table I): Illinois regulations are more restrictive than those in effect in two of the 10 states compared. Illinois regulations are less restrictive than those in effect in eight of the 10 states compared.

Particulate emission standards for incinerators (Table II): Illinois regulations are more restrictive in 77 out of 99 cases (78 per cent).

Illinois regulations are equal in 22 out of 99 cases.

Illinois regulations are less restrictive in none of 99 cases.

Particulate emission standards for process emission sources (Table III): Illinois regulations are more restrictive in 62 out of 70 cases (88 per cent).

Illinois regulations are equal in 8 out of 70 cases.

Illinois regulations are less restrictive in eight out of 70 cases (11 per cent).

Particulate emission standards for solid fuel combustion sources (Table IV): Illinois regulations are more restrictive in 44 out of 58 cases (76 per cent).

Illinois regulations are equal in 14 out of 58 cases.

Illinois regulations are less restrictive in none out of 58 cases.

Sulfur dioxide emission standards for solid fuel combustion sources (Table V): Illinois regulations are more restrictive in 25 out of 51 cases (51 per cent).

Illinois regulations are equal in 14 out of 51 cases.

Illinois regulations are less restrictive in 16 out of 51 cases.

Sulfur dioxide emission standards for process emission sources (Table VI): Illinois regulations are more restrictive in 39 out of 52 cases (75 per cent).

Illinois regulations are equal in 10 out of 52 cases.

Illinois regulations are less restrictive in three out of 52 cases.

Source performance standards (Table VII): Nitrogen dioxide emission standards for fuel combustion sources:

For sources having a heat input greater than 250 million Btu, federal regulations require maximum levels of emission permitted. Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and Wisconsin have adopted specific regulations which meet federal standards for such emissions.

In the absence of specific regulations in this case, federal regulations govern in Arkansas, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri and Texas.

For sources having a heat input less than 250 million Btu, only Kentucky, of all states compared, has developed specific emission levels applying to heat exchangers. There are no applicable federal regulations.

Nitrogen dioxide emission standards for nitric acid plants: Federal regulations provide maximum levels of emission. No state compared has adopted regulations which are more restrictive than those provided in federal regulations.

This trend is especially disturbing in light of the historical fact that the only times the poor have "gained" on the rich have been during economic booms.

In other words, a healthy capitalist economy is the best device ever discovered for improving the lot of the poor. But in the name of improving the lot of the poor, we are progressively destroying that economy.

The first is simple misunderstanding. Our business system is often interpreted by the wrong people, people who are hostile to it, and they explain it to those who are ignorant of it.

The second bad influence on the capitalist image is the standard of comparison. To be honest, the results of our economic system should be compared with competing systems.

But somehow, the opposition has succeeded in discouraging such comparisons. Instead, capitalism is held up to some competition, decreases efficiency, dulls initiative and increases costs.

Ironically, as a final insult, critics of business point to the troubles of the private economy — often caused by too much government intervention in the first place — and use these troubles as justification for more government activity.

Why does capitalism have a bad name? Why are we in ever-increasing danger of destroying these very qualities that have long sustained us? I think there are three major reasons:

First, we have a higher standard of living for everyone? Or, a private economy in three ways:

First, through direct competition, in which government agencies subsidized with tax dollars offer the same services as taxpaying private firms.

Second, in competition for funds in the capital markets. The government's enormous borrowing drives up interest rates and makes it more difficult for private firms to raise capital.

Third, the economy is crippled through excessive regulation, which decreases competition, decreases efficiency, dulls initiative and increases costs.

First, we have a higher standard of living for everyone? Or, a private economy in three ways:

First, through direct competition, in which government agencies subsidized with tax dollars offer the same services as taxpaying private firms.

Excessively severe budget cuts for counseling centers

Deep slashes made in the operating funds for mental health clinics in Madison County during 1976 appear to be an inappropriate way for the county government to begin the Bicentennial year of a nation that has done so much to elevate the "common man" and reduce adherence to "class systems" that cause injustice.

Prompt steps to reverse the destructive budget pattern are being called for by the affected agencies and by many citizens and taxpayers.

Well-to-do people no doubt are going to still be able to afford to visit psychiatrists. But many families in this recessionary era have no substitutes for the counseling services that have been made available at the health centers.

Plan for systematic streamlining of regulatory agencies

Press-Record Washington Bureau — Two senators have devised a plan to force Congress to act for reform of all federal regulatory agencies. It is a task that many members try to avoid because special interests are so heavily involved.

Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., proposed that Congress and the President enact a timetable extending to 1981 for systematic reform of existing laws setting up federal regulatory functions.

Thirty-five federal agencies would be divided into five groups, and a year set for action to reform laws governing each group — 1977 for banking and financial

Illinois, like most of the nation, has sharply curbed the volume of state hospital confinement, instead relying on tranquilizers and various other approaches — in concert with community counseling clinics — to restore many thousands of people to productive roles in society.

It will be a sad example of being "penny wise and pound foolish" if a few misguided "hatchet men" persist in punitive action against vitally-needed programs whose administrators are being ignored as lacking in political clout.

A financial "scalpel" might make sense, if wielded skillfully, but there is no justification for reckless butchery carried out in the guise of "helping the people."

reform, 1978 for energy and environment, 1979 for commerce, transportation and communications, 1980 for food, health and safety, and 1981 for others such as housing, small business, labor-management relations and equal employment.

In each year, if Congress failed to act, presidential reform plans would automatically go into effect, or the regulatory agencies would automatically go out of existence.

Some such "action-forcing mechanism" is necessary to overcome bureaucratic inertia, special interest lobbying and Congressional reluctance to disturb the status quo.

Midwest now No. 1 source of 'investments in America'

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — There is some significant news for Illinois out of financially troubled New York City.

A report by the New York Stock Exchange showed that Chicago has replaced New York City as the metropolitan area with the largest number of corporate shareholders.

The study found there are currently 1,128,000 shareholders in the Chicago area compared with 1,009,000 in New York.

Chicago was also far ahead of Los Angeles which, like New York, has a far larger population. A total of 985,000 shareholders were reported for the Los Angeles area.

The study is compiled every five years and the Chicago-New York comparison shows a startling change. In 1970, New York had the big edge in shareowners, 1,907,000 to 1,474,000.

Nationwide, the number of Americans holding stocks has declined substantially due mainly, in the view of financial experts, to growing disillusionment with the stock market as a road to a better life.

But the decline in the Chicago area was 23.5 per cent compared with a whopping drop of 47.1 for New York.

The significance of the shift is that it reflects a strengthening of Chicago and the Midwest as a center of long-range investment in America.

Who causes public education crises?

To the Editor:

In reply to the North student who deflected exterior smoking areas Dec. 24, school leadership should have taught him by now that in a republic it is the responsibility of a citizen to monitor his public institutions — and to be concerned about and exercise control over how his tax money is spent by public officials.

When citizens neglect their responsibilities, they soon lose their rights to the public officials in power.

I have personally visited both high schools campuses and have seen numerous students exit from school buildings with lighted cigarettes. It is absurd to contend that students are safer because of the smoking areas.

As to students being faced with drugs, anyway, and the fine communication which has been established at North between faculty and students, students are faced with many other dangers, i.e., theft, assault, robbery, etc. Let's hope that communications do not become so good that school leadership will insist on setting aside areas on public school grounds for students to learn and practice these socially destructive activities also.

If smoking areas are so good for our high school students, I wonder why the people who worked so many long hours to establish them on public school grounds did not work to establish them on all public school grounds.

If the interest of the students is at the core of their reasons for the deflected exterior smoking areas on campus, surely they would not want to short-change the kindergarten, elementary and junior high school students.

If there is a "most important thing" in school, I would think it would have to be honorable, wise and astute adult leadership for the student.

If one has the capacity to lead, one has the ability to communicate. The crux of the matter lies in what he communicates.

Elected and appointed public officials do not always provide constructive leadership. History is full of men who led their people into dishonor, disgrace and untimely death.

A degree in education does not guarantee constructive leadership. Formal educators and public school officials are largely responsible for the public education crisis of today.

In my opinion, school officials are encouraging students to disobey the laws of the state of Illinois in regard to minors buying cigarettes; local city officials are encouraging disobedience of the law by minors in providing cigarette licenses to cigarette machine vendors.

Local merchants are violating the laws by selling cigarettes to minors without parental approval, and law enforcement officials have chosen to refuse to enforce the laws pertaining to minors buying cigarettes and merchants selling to them.

Public officials and leaders in the community openly defy the laws and then sit in their ivory towers and wonder why the crime rates are soaring. Much of the problem lies in the example set by our leadership.

If the North student wants to write something further, I suggest that he make a list of all of the facts as to the cigarette smoking brings to our society, and that he pass these facts on to his classmates and the local school leadership.

According to the county superintendent, Venice is the only other high school in Madison County which permits students to smoke on public school grounds.

School, community and law enforcement officials in surrounding towns have produced the brain power, finances and other resources necessary to cope with this problem.

Granite City adult residents voted three to one against smoking areas on high school campuses in a survey conducted by the Citizens' Advisory Council.

Granite City public officials are defying the wishes of their constituents and, in my opinion, encouraging defiance of the laws of the state. I wonder if the North student has been so poorly educated that he is all for this kind of leadership.

Ask most Americans why this nation is great and powerful and here are some of the answers you will get back:

1. "It was God's will."
2. "It was our destiny."
3. "It was our superior endowment of natural resources."
4. "It was our science."

Certainly, we can put an end to many of these myths. America has never been the most populous nation. And, until recently, we trailed many of the advanced nations in science and technology.

What about resources? We were never over-endowed with natural resources. The truth people are just now "discovering."

In fact, there are many underdeveloped nations with vast reserves of natural resources and population, and they are classified as "undeveloped" nations of the "Third World." Think about that and ask why.

The secret of our success is — and always has been — embodied in a people and a business system which place great premiums on competition, individual initiative, hard work and good organization and management.

These are the elements of our society which hold together the fabric of our greatness invisibly like Adam Smith's "unseen hand."

Therein lies the vulnerability of the system. The intangible essence of these most precious resources could be brutally murdered and it might be years before the depth is discovered — much later to think about looking for a villain.

It is always easy to justify one more government program to benefit some worthy group or another. It is always easy to find an abominable truth people can be "corrected" by a new law or a new regulatory agency.

But, unfortunately, it is not so easy to stand back, take a look at the whole picture, and see where we are headed.

The growth of government is crippling what's left of the private economy in three ways:

First, through direct competition, in which government agencies subsidized with tax dollars offer the same services as taxpaying private firms.

Second, in competition for funds in the capital markets. The government's enormous borrowing drives up interest rates and makes it more difficult for private firms to raise capital.

Third, the economy is crippled through excessive regulation, which decreases competition, decreases efficiency, dulls initiative and increases costs.

Ironically, as a final insult, critics of business point to the troubles of the private economy — often caused by too much government intervention in the first place — and use these troubles as justification for more government activity.

Why does capitalism have a bad name? Why are we in ever-increasing danger of destroying these very qualities that have long sustained us? I think there are three major reasons:

Venice election coverage praised

To the Editor:

This is written to express my appreciation for the excellent coverage which the Press-Record gave to our recently successful tax referendum.

While no one can be certain as to the exact extent your coverage played in the passage of the referendum, I am sure that the excellent coverage played a definite role in passage. Again, my thanks.

Illinois, American people praised by Sandburg

(Sangamon State University)

A bibliography listing all of Sandburg's works would itself require a volume 400 pages in length.

Unlike other poets remembered for a few key works which live after them, Sandburg's contribution is in the totality of the vast literature he produced. His writing is a religious, monumental statement of faith in mankind.

I am credulous about the destiny of man, he wrote, "I believe more than I can ever prove of the future of the human race, and the importance of illusions."

Sandburg was born in Galesburg, Ill. in 1878, to a Swedish immigrant family. His youth was spent in itinerant labor as, among other things, harvester, bricklayer, and dishwasher, and he went to Puerto Rico as a soldier in the Spanish-American War.

His irregular formal schooling was capped by four years at Lombard College in Galesburg, after which he became an advertising writer, journalist, and organizer of the Social Democratic Party in Wisconsin, constantly gathering impressions of the man and the American genius about which he would write.

Sandburg was unknown as a poet until 1914 when Poetry published a selection of his work including "Chicago," a poem which established him as the spokesman of the crude, vital America that he knew face to face.

After that and as a reporter for the Chicago Daily News from 1917 to 1930, he rapidly became a recognized member of the literary world, including Ben Hecht, Charles McCarthy, Harry Hansen and Floyd Dell.

His perspective is Midwestern, small-town, farm, as well as big city, and his message is best comprehended when read with a Midwestern accent or when listened to from a recording of Sandburg himself.

A accomplished guitarist, he accompanied himself as he sang or recited—truly the voice of America singing.

The poetry, journalism, biography, fiction, songs, and history which emerged expressed a great faith in the promises of democracy; a tremendous appreciation of the beauty of ordinary people and commonplace things; and a profound faith in the working class.

Sandburg's poems are found in a selection of his works which include The People, Yes (1936), an eloquent expression in verse of the democratic, humanistic spirit as it appears in folklore and folk history.

The thought and language patterns of the Midwest permeate his Complete Poems (1950), awarded a Pulitzer Prize.

Before his death in 1967, Sandburg may have been America's most honored writer, regularly conferring with Presidents, winning all important literary prizes, and wondering at the number of schools and public buildings named after him.

"My father couldn't sign his name," wrote Sandburg, "he made his mark on the CBAQ payroll sheet."

"My mother was able to read the Scriptures in her native language, but she could not write, and I wrote of Abraham Lincoln whose own mother could not read or write! I guess that somewhere along in this you'll find a story of America."

A block from the railroad tracks in Galesburg, the three-room cottage where Sandburg was born has been restored, its back room filled with Lincoln memorabilia.

Under a boulder called Remembrance Rock, for his book of that name, Sandburg's widow deposited his ashes.

In an age of cynicism, those Americans, particularly those Midwesterners, who fail to read Carl Sandburg are denying themselves an opportunity to have their faith in America revived.

For 30 years he worked on a comprehensive biography of Abraham Lincoln.

The Prairie Years appeared in two volumes in 1926 and the Pulitzer Prize-winning The War Years in four volumes in 1939, the latter exceeding writings of Shakespeare by 150,000 words.

Sandburg's intention was to relate in graphic detail the man whom he and Vachel Lindsay and so many other Illinois poets revered, to separate fact from myth, and to let the life in which he found so much beauty speak for itself.

In many ways he became the literary embodiment of the Lincoln tradition; and the moral, humanitarian, and democratic attitudes of Lincoln are fundamental to all of Sandburg's writings.

Area slate for Reagan

Republicans in St. Clair and Madison counties have formed a slate supporting former California Governor Ronald Reagan for President. They will run for election as delegates to the Republican national convention next August in Kansas City.

The candidates are: Robert Glenn, Belleville, a Republican member of the St. Clair County Board; Jacquelyn C. Smith, Lebanon, R. Crain, Caseyville, a precinct committeeman and chairman of the Caseyville Township Republican Committee; and Erwin H. Weder, a veteran Madison County Republican from Highland.

They will oppose a slate supporting President Ford headed by William D. Stiehl, Republican state central committeeman.

The board slate issued this statement:

"We believe the strength shown by Gov. Reagan in recent polls is the true will of the grassroots American people.

"Reagan has instilled great enthusiasm among the rank-and-file members of the party and among independent voters as well. We feel he is the only

Republican candidate who can bring these people to the polls on Nov. 2."

"Having studied Gov.

Reagan's record in California,

we feel that fiscal responsibility is possible in government. We feel that welfare rolls can be reduced, and that social problems should be handled

below the federal level."

Glenn, Smith, Crain and Weder are seeking delegator chairs from the 23rd

Congressional District. Illinois

Republicans will choose four delegates and four alternates from the district in the March 16 primary election. The state will send 102 delegates to the Kansas

City convention.

Mayor Paul Schuler officiated

at the flag raising and there were brief talks by Dr. Wilson, the conference minister,

Illinois South Conference,

United Church of Christ, and State Representative Sam Wolf

and Everett G. Steele.

In addition to his dedicatory remarks, Dr. Koshewa gave the sermon, "The Cause Between God and Us," at 9 and 10:20

a.m. services indoors.

Rep. Steele noted that St.

John's United Church has been a center of religious and civic life for more than a century, and Rep. Wolf described such patriotic programs as providing evidence of active citizenship in the community and nation.

The assembled gathering sang in unison, "We give thanks to the God of our fathers for the bountiful blessings of the past 200 years.

"Now is the time for all citizens of this nation to rededicate themselves to the unfinished work which others have thus far so nobly carried on."

"We rededicate ourselves to the tasks remaining before us and that this nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that the government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Guests were introduced by the Rev. Dr. Paul R. Surbey, pastor, and prayer was offered by the Rev. Carl Eschen-brenner, associate pastor.

The assembly gave the pledge of allegiance and sang the national anthem, the latter accompanied by a trumpet player, Robert Springer.

The call to the colors was sounded by Springer, with

Stanley Fornasewski as drummer.

Flag bearers for the outdoor dedication service were four youths of the congregation—

Braden, Terri Theri, Sharon

Werner and Bill Winter.

At Sunday's services, there was open communion and the order of worship resembled that of Americans in 1776.

State Park police activated

Acceptance and dedication of a new police car for State Park Place special unit 33A was the only item of business before the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors during a special meeting Saturday morning.

The board inspected the car, finding it had a two-barrel carburetor. The specifications had called for a four-barrel carburetor.

The board agreed to accept and dedicate the car, with the stipulation that payment for it not be made until the supplier,

Bo Beuckman Ford, Collinsville, agreed to replace the carburetor.

The new squad car enables the immediate reactivation of the special State Park police unit, which has been inactive since July 1974 when the county's "special deputy" commission was ruled illegal.

Since that time, the county
